

estrela bet o que #233;

There is no single "most important" element as all film components — story, characters, acting, direction, production quality, pacing, emotional impact, relatability, and originality — contribute to its overall quality. However, many argue that a compelling story is at the heart of a great movie.

What Makes A Good Movie - Robin Piree : blog : what-makes-a-good-movie

Let's start.

The movie speaks to you. This is the only non-objective criteria on the list, but it's the most important. ...

The movie doesn't resemble another movie too closely. ...

The movie doesn't progress the way you thought it would. ...

The movie has rhythm. ...

The movie takes for granted that you're smart.

5 ways to tell if the movie you're watch